Nanda Putri Itari. (2023). Analysis of the Role of Character Education in Shaping Students' Religious Attitudes at MI NW Jantuk Academic Year 2022/2023

This study aims to determine the role of character education in shaping students' religious attitudes at MI NW Jantuk in academic year 2022/2023. The research method used in this research is qualitative research. This study used a descriptive qualitative approach. The subjects of this study were the school principal, PAI teacher, class teacher, four parents and five fifth-grade students. Data collection techniques were observation, interviews, and documentation. Data analysis was carried out by collecting data, reducing data, and drawing conclusions. Data validity was carried out by source triangulation and technical triangulation. The result showed that character education plays a very important role in shaping students' religious attitudes. This included students were able to obey their religious teachings, to have a high tolerance attitude, and to be accustomed to carrying out positive activities. We can see from the activities that are implemented by students, especially activities related to religious attitudes, such as students are used to saying greetings when meeting teachers and peers, students always take part in religious activities held by the school such as praying before entering class, reading short verses, performing Duha prayer on Friday, and memorizing short verses in the afternoon.
